President's Message January 2020

Almost every month I write a glowing message of how wonderful our speaker was. This month's is no exception except in my mind David Off was just super. When he mentioned the topic my initial thoughts were how is he going to make a talk about unusual variations of Cattleya species interesting. As you all know he did and it was entrancing. Clearly David has an extraordinary knowledge of the Cattleya alliance. I also think he was very happy with his sales. David was very surprised at the 45 person turn out. He said the last time he was here there was a very sparse attendance. Thanks to all of you for coming.

Our show table was the most prolific ever. It is just amazing to me how all of you have progressed an orchid growers. There must have been almost 20 orchids in the Cattleya category. Too bad we could not have given out more than three awards. I may consider doubling the number of awards in the future if we continue to have so many plants in one category on the judging table.

Since I am writing the message before the NJOS show I want thank everyone in advance for helping Anne during set up and take down and of course supplying your wonderful orchids. I hope we get a first place ribbon. PS They did a Great Job. We did get a 1st place

CULTIVATION

The following is reprinted with permission from the St Augustine Orchid Society

Q1 What is this bug and how do I get rid of it?

A1 I couldn't tell what the problem was from the pic of the top of the leaf, so I asked Humberto to send a pic of the leaf underside. The scale infestation is clearly visible on the bottom of the leaf. The first step was to spray the obvious scale with alcohol and follow up with a drench of one of the Bayer Three in One products containing imidacloprid as one of the active ingredients.

Q2 I was given a Phalaenopsis in rotting, moldy bark medium. I removed all the medium, perched it on a plastic bottle I've punched full of holes, and it's been growing in 'air' for four or five months now. I spray it twice a day with spring water, and also spray with fertilised water. The roots are NOT sitting in water. It seems healthy enough -- new roots and a leaf are emerging, and the old leaves do not look like they are yellowing. That top big leaf grew while it was with me. While it was still in bark medium, one leaf developed these marks, but they have not enlarged. Should I trim the leaf?

A2 Whatever you are doing, don't change a thing! Do not worry about the bottom leaf blemish, eventually your plant will shed the leaf and you won't have to look at it anymore. It looks like something happened to it when the leaf was originally forming, but there is no active infection. Good growing!
